

There will be no orders taken this year for 2023 seedling trees

Sorry!

"The Colorado State Forest Service (CSFS) Seedling Tree Nursery is taking critical steps to improve facilities, expand staffing and increase production of quality seedlings. These improvements are essential because the Nursery has experienced significant staff shortages and failing infrastructure in recent years, and this focus on updates will unfortunately require short-term reductions in production at the facility. All existing orders and contacts for the Spring 2023 will be fulfilled, but no new orders will be accepted at this time."
